THE O. A. K.'S IN INDIANA. Papers Discovered in the Office of Congressmen Voorhees-Sharp Letter from General Carrington.

An Indianapolis letter in the Cincinnati Ga-Some time since copies of the ritual of the O. A. K. were found in the office of D. W. Voorhees, at Terre Haute, which naturally led to the inference that they were the property of D. W. Voorhees. He has made a denial to Colonel R. W. Thompson and to General Carrington, which occasioned the following LETTER FROM JENERAL H. B. CARRINGTON TO D. W. VOORHEBS.

INDIANAFOLIS, Ind., Aug. 16, 1864.—Hon. D.
W. Veorhees, Member United States Congress, Terra Hante, Ind.:—I have received from you a copy of your letter to Col. R. W. Thompson, Provost Marshal, and his reply. The following laconic note accompanies them: "General Carrington:—As you published this falsehood in the newspapers, I shall expect you to correct it as Colonel Thompson has done.

D. W. VOORHEES." The assumption in the above is groundless.

Your name is not mentioned by me in my re-ports, neither have I published anything about you, whatever. You insist upon my answering your note to Colonel Thompson. The points you make are: 1st. "That the office in which it is said these papers were found had not been occupied by you or any one connected with you, or been in any way under your control since last Novem-2d. You "desire to ascertain whether the circumstances connected with the discovery of those papers in that office led to the supposition that you placed them there, or was even aware of their existence." You desire this "that the people may know the truth," and "not that you attach any particular importance to the documents." The papers referred to are one hundred and twelve copies of the Ritual of the O. A. K., a treasonable order, aiming to overturn the Government of the United States, of which you are

The gentleman who found "these papers" told me they were found in your office. The following are "some of the circumstances" that led me to suppose they were correct in the supposition : Your law library and office furniture were in the office where "these papers" were found. You had declined renomination for Congress, and the office was reported as not for rent as late as April, 1864. The ritual had been issued in the autumn of 1863. Your Congressional documents were in the office where "these papers" were found.

Your speeches, up to March, of your entire Congressional career, with the "John Brown" speech, were in the office where "these papers" The correspondence of Senator Wall, of New Jersey, under his frank, indorsing a proposition to furnish you with twenty thousand stand of Garibaldi rifles, just imported, "for which he could youch," was in the office where "these papers" were found. The correspondence of C. L. Vallandigham, from Windsor, C.W., assuring you "our people will fight," and that "he is ready," and fixing a point on "the Lima road" at "which to meet you," was in the office where "these papers' The correspondence of Joseph Ristine, Auditor of State, declaring that he "would like to see all Democrats unite in a bold and open resistance to all attempts to keeps ours a united people by force of steel," and that "this was a war against the Democracy, and our only hope was the successful resistance of the South," was in the office where "these papers" were found. The correspondence of E. C. Hibben, who assures you that "the Democracy are fast stiff. ening up when this war is to be openly delated as being waged ing the negro," "which will arouse another section of the country to arms," and declaring "that Lincoln bayonets are shouldered for cold-blooded murder," was in the office where

"these papers" were found. The correspondence of J. Hardesty, who "Wants you to have that hundred thousand men ready, as we do not know how soon we may need them," was in the office where this ritual was found.

The correspondence of J. J. Bingham, who asks you "if you think the South has resources enough to keep the Union forces at buy," and says that "you must have sources of information which he has not," was in the office where "these papers" were found.

The correspondence of John G. Davis, informing you that a certain New York journal is wonderfully exercised about secret and anti-war movements, and tremble in their boots in view of the terrible reaction which is sure to await them," was in the office where "these papers" were found The correspondence of W. S. Walker, who keeps out of the way because they are trying to arrest him for officiating in secret societies," inclosing the oath of the K. G. C.'s, prior to that of the O. A. K., was in the office where "these papers" were found.

The petition of C. L. Vallandigham, D. W.
Voorhees and Benjamin Wood, in favor of two republics and a united South, was in the office where "these papers" were found. The correspondence of Campbell, who says the "Democracy were once not afraid to let their purposes out to daylight;" but that "now it is deemed best to work in secret, and asking your consent," was in the office where "these papers" were found.

The correspondence of E. Etheridge, Clerk of the House of Representatives, giving official notice that "your credentials as member of the Thirty-eighth Congress have been received and filed in the proper office," and for you "to come on," was in the office where "these papers" The correspondence of George H. Pendleton, which states that Etheridge's plan to organize Congress, viz: "To elect himself Clerk and Cox as Speaker," "though he (Pendleton) will not facilitate the renomination of any man as Clerk whose programme is for his defeat as Speaker," "suggesting to you to have it whispered in the ear of Etheridge, to reciprocate favors and opposition," and do this authoritatively, but not as from him, &c., was in the office where "these papers" were found. The correspondence of J. McDonald, who had an interview with Perkins, "in one of his (Perkins') lucid intervals," with regard to the discovery of the Northwest passage" by Perkins, for which he claimed the credit, &c., was in the office where "these papers" were found. And so of B. W. Hanna, who wants a good place in the regular army; and so of Hanne-gan, and so of W. J. Pierce, who "will show the Beasts that Lincoln has turned out to be monsters in 1864;" and so of Bigger and Dev-lin and Dodd, &c., whose said correspondence was in the office where "these papers" were These are some of "the circumstances" that led me to believe that "these papers," the Ritual of the O. A. K., were found in your office. I looked upon these circumstances as a plain juror might be supposed to do, and not as a statesman, and innocently supposed that such papers as these, if spared from the fire, would be in the possession of the owner, and that the office of the owner would be the place where these papers would be found.

And yet, with Col. Thompson, I cheerfully accept your denial, and so respond, as you request, "that the people may know the truth." Your well-wisher,

HENRY B. CARRINGTON.

The Richmond Dispatch has a new dress of type imported from "neutral" England. In appounding the fact it pays the following compliment to Northern enterprise and ingenuity : "We believe they are the first English type brought to this city from London since 1826, when the late Mr. Ritchie, of the Enquirer, imported a font for his paper. Since then up to the war the Yankees supplied the South with types. We are gratified at being able to lead off with the English manufacture now, and will be yet more pleased, after the war, to dress our paper in types made here in Richmond. In-deed, a foundry was in existence here when the war began, and our paper was printed then on Richmond-made type; but the founder was a Yankee, and went off through the lines under the promise to return and bring some articles much needed by publishers and the govern-ment, but he never came back."

RAILBOAD NORTH TO RICHMOND—From the diary of a captured officer, it is ascertained that the rebels have repaired the railroad between Richmond and Culpepper, and that trains have been running regularly for more than a month past. Large quantities of grain gathered in the Shenandoah Valley by Early have been sent to Richmond. The captured officer says one third of the whole rebel force in the valley, from the moment they came there, have been constantly employed in threshing grain and removing it to Culpepper.—N. Y. DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those whe, from education and respectability can alone befriend him. He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, incapable of curing, filch his pecuniary substance, keep him trifling month after month, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with ruined health to sigh over his galling disappointment; or, by the use of that deadly poison, Mercary, hasten the constitutional symptoms of this terrible disease, such as Affections of the Head, Throat, Nose, Skin, etc., progressing with frightful rapidity until death puts an end to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no travele, returns.
